Latest Information & Opportunities

Teen Resource Center's (TRC) CSLP 2016: Migrants of New York (MONY)

Date: 8/5/16 @ DCTV

What is the American Dream? What impact does the American Dream have on immigrants? Immigrants face countless dilemmas in this new world, including language barriers, discrimination, and unfamiliarity with a brand new culture. Migrants of New York is an interactive simulation designed by 9 high school students from TRC's Community Service Learning Program (CSLP). In Migrants of New York (MONY), you are able to step inside the story of an immigrant. You will be given realistic scenarios, where you must make decisions in order to resolve dilemmas pertaining different categories like education, jobs, healthcare, and housing. Based on a combination of chance and your choices, the ending to your story may change. Come to our event to find out!

Admission is free at DCTV (87 Lafayette St, New York, NY 10013) and there will be free refreshments!

The 6th Annual New York City Poetry Festival

Date: 7/30/16-7/31/16 @ Governor's Island

The Poetry Society of New York, producers of The Poetry Brothel and The Typewriter Project, once again invite attendees to come together for this free two-day festival to celebrate New York City's vibrant poetry community. The purpose of the New York City Poetry Festival has been to liberate poets and their work from the dark corners of bars, bookstore, and coffee shops and their halogen-lit college campuses, and to bring together as many NYC poets as possible, in the bright light of day, to meet, mingle, and collaborate. The event includes over 75 poetry organizations and 250 poets, a Vendor's Village where local booksellers, artists and craft makers sell their wares, healthy and delicious food options, drinks, poetry-inspired installation art, the Ring of Daisies open mic and the Children's Festival at NYCPOFEST!

Museum of Moving Image

This super-cool complex (36-01 35 Ave, Astoria, NY 11106) is one of the world's top film, television and video museums. Galleries show a collection of 130,000-plus artifacts, including Elizabeth Taylor's wig from Cleopatra, nearly everything related to Seinfeld and a whole room of vintage arcade games. Interactive displays – such as a DIY flipbook station – show the science behind the art. You can also try your hand at film editing (including re-dubbing the 'We're not in Kansas anymore' scene from The Wizard of Oz), and get nostalgic over an impressive booty of vintage TVs and cameras. The museum's temporary exhibitions are usually fantastic, as are the regular film screenings – check the website for details. Enjoy the experience with a friend— admission is free from 4PM-8PM on Fridays!
